Strong Project

"Clara furniture is a great value for Ascertain because it matches the hip look and feel of their software company. It has a light, clean look and actually is lightweight - allowing them the flexibility to change the office layout as they grow. I would love to be any employee here. It's a great environment, and it looks so well designed, it could be a furniture showroom."

The Need

In Spring 2003, this young high-tech company relocated to a former art gallery in trendy Old Pasadena - a very open, airy environment. To maintain the architectural integrity of the space - including exposed walls adorned with murals and high loft-like ceilings with decorative details - Ascertain needed new furniture with a modern style, light in scale.

izzy's Solution

Hit ENTER for the clean, simple design of izzy's freestanding furniture, Clara. It complements Ascertain's team collaborative work style and supports this technology-driven business in fine style. The project was installed within 30 days of order, including straight, diamond, arc and circle-shaped tables with soft edges for heavy computer use; personal and archival storage units; several flip-top Jack training tables; and high-performance Maxwell task chairs and elegant wood Gracie swivel and side chairs. Casters are attached to everything, since Ascertain employees are always on the move.
